

NFP Promotes Kim Davis to Executive Vice President, Chief Human Resources Officer

NEW YORK – May 11, 2016 – NFP, a leading insurance broker and consultant that provides employee benefits, property & casualty, retirement, and individual insurance and wealth management solutions, has promoted Kim Davis to Executive Vice President, Chief Human Resources Officer.

Davis leads the internal human resources (HR) programs at NFP and has spearheaded the company's growth in HR consulting and outsourcing services for clients. She has enhanced internal programs and initiatives at the company, focusing on increasing professional support and development, talent acquisition and community engagement. Most recently, Davis played an integral part in launching the NFP Women in Leadership Council, which seeks to empower female leaders across the organization.

Douglas Hammond, Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of NFP, commented, "Kim's significant HR experience and superior leadership has proven invaluable to our team's success. As a member of NFP's Executive Management Committee, Kim's commitment to our employees and clients has helped shape our growth. Her work has created business efficiencies and employee-centric initiatives that have enabled individuals to thrive personally and professionally. We're proud to have Kim as part of the NFP family."

Davis has over 25 years of experience in HR and held leadership positions within several industries prior to joining NFP in 2012. Previously as an entrepreneur, Davis established two HR- and benefits-focused firms. Most recently, she was co-founder of a benefits procurement consortium specializing in private equity that was acquired by NFP in 2012.

Davis commented, "At NFP, we take great pride in our people and recognize the tremendous role our team and customers play in our path to success. I'm excited to be a part of the effort to drive NFP forward and develop our unique people-first culture."
